Facts on the STECKSYSTEM Signs

- Premium and unique labelling sign product that has been patented, field proven and successfully been in use for more than 40 years in Plant and Process Labelling applications all over the world
- With an open slide-in approach, the STECKSYSTEM Signs represent a highly flexible labelling solution – letters, numbers, flow direction arrows, GHS pictograms and other symbols and colour elements can easily be combined and added as needed
- Ultra-durable quality thanks to state-of-the-art silkscreen printing and Stell's trademark halogen-free Luxotherm™ PMMA plastics with considerable resistance against harsh weather conditions, UV and a wide range of chemicals
- All components of the STECKSYSTEM are available in two selectable sizes to offer perfect visibility options – also in aluminium versions for usage in high-temperature environments
- Comes with two installation options as the STECKSYSTEM Signs can be installed by means of dedicated sign brackets and pipe clamps or will be firmly glued on flat surfaces
- Extended versatility as any number of assembled STECKSYSTEM Signs can be combined to provide more information and even single content components as e.g. numbers can still be exchanged after installation
